Extract from the Civil Code-Law relat-

SECTION 309.—The Minister of the Interior shall appoint, upon the recommendation of the Board of Health, a suitable person to be vaccinating officer in each of the gubernatorial divisions of the kingdom, who shall receive such salary, as may, from time to time, be appropriated by the Legislature, and shall be removable from

SECTION 310 .- Each vaccinating officer shall appoint, at least, three convenient places in each school district throughout his division, for the performance of vaccination; and, from time to time, give public notice of the time when he will attend at such places, to vaccinate all persons not already successfully vaccinated who may then and there appear; and also of the time when he will attend at such place to inspect the progress of such vaccination in the persons so vaccinated.

Section 311.—The father or mother of every child shall, within six months after the birth of such child, or, in the event of the death, illness, or absence of the fatner r mother, then the guardian, nurse, or person having birth, or at the earliest opportunity after, take such child to the vaccinating officer, for the purpose of being vac-

THE HAWAIIAN ARMY-The adage that we should go from home to learn news of ourselves has had its truth again exemplified in the extract from a Bremen paper, which will be found in our correspondent's "Letter from Europe" which appears in another column.

Up to date no criminal cases have been set down for hearing during the April term of the Supreme Court. The Civil Causes are numerous, especially those for the Mixed Jury. The Divorce Cases number 12 and it is expected that others will be added to the list

The ADVERTISER is accused by our neighbor of a mis-statement of date of election of officers of the Musical Hall Association, when it never said a word on the subject; but now announces, that on the 16th inst, the following officers of the Association were elected : S. G. Wilder, President; Wm. G. Irwin, Vice-President; J. A. Hassinger, Secretary; H. A. Widemann, Treasurer.

When lately interviewed by a newspaper reporter, Mr. Claus Spreckels gave it as his opinion, that the current year would see the San Francisco market independent of any source of Ouwi (Tahitian) k, 20 years, at Quarantine sugar supply other than the Hawaiian Islands. He also stated that the prospects of Beet sugar industry in California are not good, and that although he had taken much interest in the matter, and gone to Europe to study it, bringing back seed for distribution, he had now given the Simon Kukuna (S. S. I.) k, 45 years, at Manoa Le According to declarations in the Su preme Court on Thursday last, the quarantine reef can hardly be regarded as Hawaiian territory, inasmuch as Chinese immigrants pe Septima and Meefoo, detained there, were declared not to have become residents of the King dom; but were said to be in accordance with figure of speech, or legal fiction expressed, still upon, as it were the gang-way of the above vessels, extended to that point. Consequently, contracts made with parties confined on this sort of neutral territory, or no man's land, ought to have no binding force, as not having been made within the acknowledged territory and jurisdiction of this Kingdom.

CRICKET .- A scratch match was played by members of the Honolulu Cricket Club on Saturday afternoon last, which afforded some good practice. The sides were chosen by Murphy and Perry as captains, and the team selected by the former went first to the wickets and put up a score of 35 in all. When they took the field, Perry and Scrimgeour went in and made scores of 25 and 26 respectively. The game was brought to a close when 61 had been scored for the fall of four wickets only. This afternoon the Seniors and Junior will play a return match. Harrison will play with the former on this occasion and being a splendid man for keeping up the heart of any team he plays with, it is expected that he will "pull them through." Their reputations are undoubtedly at stake to-day after their collapse in the first match.

Rev. A. O. Forbes in a second letter, which shows a good deal of personal animus against the editor of this journal, says that he is not to be affected by any "bragging and bullying:" denounces our alleged "whine" of deprecation at certain statements : declares his devotion to the country and the people ; insists that his assertions in respect to small-pox hospital are all maintained; and furthermore says that he does not skulk behind any anonymous or impersonal cloak, and does not wish any discussion. The reverend gentleman, as a preacher of the gospel, has at times afforded us satis, factory instruction; but his present partizanship does not make him appear to advantage. We cannot see who has "bragged or bullied," to affect him. Our "whine" of deprecation is fully met by his cant of self assertion. He endeavors to prove that we said that the tide water sylashed into the pest cart, by quoting from a native statement of the manner of burying the dead on the reef; thus endeavoring to prove one statement by talking about something else. And he talks about skulking, when he is absolutely sure that nobody cares to hide from him. Now we don't wish to provoke any more discussion on this subject; but we would be glad to have the reverend gentleman go again to the reef; to go some cold windy day, as in the early part of March, when his guide takes his overcoat with him; to delay a while at the slaughter pens, just to windward of the hospital and snuff their ordors; to try the different roads that lead across the reef, and to go at high tide found on the reef; not to notice the good feed and lodging about which we are all agreed; but to assist at the digging of a grave in the shallow sands, and the boring of the holes in the bottom stated by the officer in charge to promote a more rapid destruction of the human remains; and then to prepare a calm and deliberate report, without reference to anything that we or anybody else may have said; and not having in view, the support of any official, and we will cheerfully publish the same. Paulua, or Poolua now in prison was condemned to be hung for the murder of a woman said to be his wife. She was much his as. But there is a junior. She became unfaithful, and according to testimony paraded her infidelity in sight of her injured husband. He was maddened by the jeers of his companions and neighbors, and in a state of high excitement procured a big butcher knife; saying that he and she should go to another world together. He killed the woman, by butchering her in a savage way. After which he draped his house in mourning; dressed himself fantastically; and pouring cologne water around his couch, as a sort of sense of impounding a serving his life. He was tried, and condemned condemned to be hung on the 25th inst: yesterday. The labors of Moody & Sankey, revivalists in San Francisco, resulted, says Bulletin, in adding on Sunday March 6th, hundred and fifty-two new members to the 'orthodox" churches of the city. A number of Chinese parties have me up a sum of $200 to be added to the Marsh reward of $250, for the capture of the murdere Ah Lee, The reward is now $450, and so announced in Chinese posters. We were in error respect to the reward offered for the apprehension of the murderer of Mr. Dudoit. The reward of $1000 we mentioned, was $500 by the Marshal, and $500 (not $1000) by Chinese merchants.

A brother editor says we should not complain of abuse; as Premier Gladstone has been called an owl, and said nothing about it : nor would we, if Premier of England, or even of a smaller country, at five thousand pounds, or twenty-five thousand dollars a year, care, if a neighboring ass should call us an owl; even a venerable old owl. But when a brother editor. who can have no ground for personal quarrel, slings at us the meanest personalities that come to his hand, for the sake of small pay, and to satisfy the spite of others, we think that that is quite a different thing.

spect the work going on at the new Palace will be surprised at the rapid progress that has lately been made with the work of internal decoration and finish. The plastering of the upper stories is now all but complete and the decorative work of the ceilings of the principal rooms and of the verandahs is well worth inspection. The designs for the decorative work of the building have all been prepared by Mr. Moore and will form a record in the highest degree creditable to him. Messrs, Bowler & Co. have done thorough justice to these designs in reproducing them. The mouldings, corbels, brackets and pendants are all turned out in the first style of workmanship and the more difficult work of the human and other figures in the allegorical designs which fill certain of the panels is equally well done. However various the opinions of critics as to the external appearance of the Palace may be, there can be no doubt that its interior will be something of which our little Kingdom may be proud.

From Michonesia.-The missionary packet Micronesia, brings news that is encouraging to style of living, had become passable scholars in deliberation and examination, baptized and admitted thirty-six of them to church membership. The mails which should have been taken hence by the P. M. S. S. City of New York, were despatched on Wednesday, by the German bark Atalanta, she being the first vessel which gave notice of her intention to sail for San Francisco after it was determined to send on by a sailing vessel the letters which were waiting here for despatch. The British bark Lady Lampson succeeded in completing her loading and got away a couple of hours after the Atalanta also carrying a small mail, and the American brigantine Hesperian followed her closely, casting away from the mail dock about the time the Lady Lampson cleared the entrance to the harbor. Some little jealousy was indulged in at the month's mail of more than 6000 letters being given to a craft which is not a regular trader. but as the notice of the Lady Lampson's intention to sail was not given to the Postmaster General till 2 P.M. on Tuesday, twenty-four hours after the arrangement with the Atlanta had become publicly known, there can be no ground for challenging the selection, especially as the last named bark is a new and powerfu vessel. Some interest attaches to the race between the three vessels, and a few small wagers hang on the event. The fact that they each are of different nationality gives additional zest to the matter. The Hesperian is a craft of beautifu model and under favorable circumstances stand a good chance of beating her larger competitors. far as the mail is concerned most of our business men are indifferent as to the choice of vessels, having sent their duplicates by the W H. Dimond, which got away on the 15th and i expected to make a good passage.

An attempt to escape from their durance in the Quarantine Station was made by a number of the Septima's passengers on Tuesday afternoon. The affair does not appear to have been preconcerted and the large majority of the men were easily persuaded to return to their quarters when they saw that their escape would be opposed. Mr. Afong with his son and a police man named Akana had been visiting the Station to make enquiries in response to a number of forced by the consignees of the ship and by the shippping agents to contract at too low rates of wages. Mr. Afong found that only about 200 which they were being coerced they mentioned his pockets in his deserted nouncement of a respite of four weeks to give wished if possible to get him into disfavor with fuse to go ashore unless allowed to land freely on the wharf. They were all satisfied whilst the vessel was outside the reef, and for sometime after she came inside : but became restive after conversation with several scow-loads of their fellow countrymen who were passing on their way from the quarantine establishments to island-bound schooners. Some 300 of the immigrants who came under contract with Mr. Spreckels, and about 70 who are "uncovenanted" passengers, are willing to go to the quarantine stations ashore, but the others having threatened that they will kill the first man who puts his foot over the ship's side, they are afraid. The whole trouble seems to be caused by eight or ten ringleaders, and although not desirous to resort to anything like force if it can be avoided. The consignees intend that if persuasion does not suffice, a charge of creating disturbance shall be laid against these men. Yesterday Mr. Irwin (representing Mr. Spreckels) Mr. Afong's son, Mr. Loo Ng awk and Mr. Wong Quai, went alongside and had a conversation with the men. They acknowledged their contracts with the "big plantation," and said they were ready to carry them out, but they would not go to the quarantine stations because they had been told "these are the barracoons in which you will be put and sold to the plantations." They were willing to land on the wharf and sign their new agreements but no persuasion or argument could overcome their objection to the "baracoons."

The Revised Blble.

A great many earnest and worthy minds are troubled on account of the changes in the Revised Bible; especially on account of the change in the Lord's Prayer,-which in the new version reads thus : "Our Father which art in Heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in Heaven, so on earth. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil

The learned body of divines and philologists, who have the Bible revision in hand, are unanimous in declaring that the doxology portion of the prayer: "For thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory, for ever and ever," is not found in any of the most ancient Mss. known; and is evidently an interpolation of some over zealous and pious copyist of the gospels, But this was always asserted by the Catholic Church, and the doxology to the prayer is not found in the Douay Bible. But the interpretation of "the evil one," instead of "evil," will be new to the mass of biblical readers everywhere. And some are hurt and shaken by such changes : but we see no reason, that faith should be affected by anything of the kind.

What sort of Bible did the first Christians at Antioch, have for their inspiration? What Book was it, that animated and strengthened the martyrs on the bloody arena before the wild beasts, and in the catacombs? Was it a revised Testament that was the guide and instruction of the zealous Empress Helena? Was it any sacred volume that touched the heart of a Princess Bertha to convert an English King and an English People? And was it pocket Bibles and prayer books, that to pour out their blood on the plains of book, nor any compilation of Scriptures in those days in the hands of the People. They were, from the days of the believers of Antioch, to the days of the zealots of the Crusade, all and only animated by the traditions of the life, and by the assurances of the living presence of a Christ the Saviour and Redeemer of the world. But printing came, and the multiplied letter. promoted creeds, and furious attachments

If Christians once got along very well without a Bible in hand, why should they be alarmed about changes of words and texts, which are wholly the production of more or less informed men like themselves? Shall a Hawaiian pin his faith to the present Hawaiian version of the Scriptures ? No doubt a committee of learned foreign and native scholars in the Hawaiian language could find a multitude of errors in the present version. "The letter killeth, but the spirit maketh alive," is true all the time; whether uttered as recorded in the Bible, or not, And Christ's life, and death and resurrection appeal. and will appeal, to the heart of man in all ages, whatever may be man's errors in the | language of man recording the event. 1

Morning Star, Capt. Bray, which returned this the friends of missions. The work of proselytiziing and civilizing the people on all the different islands, where teachers have been established, is reported as prosperous in the extreme, and in some cases as truly wonderful. The system has been adopted by the American missionaries on a somewhat extended scale, of educating converts on Ponape (Ascension Island) to become assistant missionaries to proceed to the groups farther west as pioneers, and these have prove remarkably efficient workers. An instance was related by the Rev. Mr. Rand, one of the returned visited island of several hundred inhabitants one evening just at sundown, and left to his own resources. The language of the people of the island was utterly unknown to him and totally was found that the people, who had first heard capacious church and a nice house for their day school, and the missionaries, after due letters which had been sent to him by passengers per Septima complaining that they were being good deal of growling sacrificial preparation, cut his throat; however and complained about their being confined where they were, and told him that they did not palestine? Not so; there was no printed t. One man lodging assistance from sewing up the gash, and prethat some young men and boys had been shipped at so low a rate as $2 per month.
